

102 McCool Street Moranbah QLD

6  2  2

This beautiful home opens itself to an array of uses. Spacious enough for the largest of families, has the potential of dual living with two separate living areas, kitchens and bathrooms or work from home with private living upstairs and self-contained office spaces downstairs.

Entry to the downstairs living area is through glass sliding door opening onto lounge and bar area. The downstairs area has been renovated with dual living in mind, with its own kitchenet including an upright Euromaid Gas Stove and Oven with plenty of cupboard and bench space. A modern toilet and shower downstairs offers independent living between the two levels.

If you're looking for space, there is two very large airconditioned bedrooms along with the open plan living room cooled by its own split system air conditioner.
